SFBSTC Specialty Update

I hope this newsletter finds you and your families well and good health. Welcome news compared to a year ago we have hopefully turned the corner on a year of Covid-19. Like many activities and events that have been put on hold or canceled, the canine community is slowly bring back events.

To recap, our club has been closely following the news from AKC and STCA to keep updated on the latest developments of what activities would open. This of course is tied into state and local regulations that are applicable. At our last general meeting it was doubtful we could hold a specialty, which has been the SFBSTC tradition.

Danica Burge-Garside and Lisa Kincheloe provide the Board with an update at a special board meeting to discuss an invitation extended to SFBSTC to participate and hold a specialty event in November. The Board gave to approval to investigate the option with STCA. GOOD NEWS! Lisa has received word back from STCA that there are no conflicts with their calendar of scheduled events, and we could hold a specialty in November. This will be on our June general meeting agenda for further discussion.

What we do know now is to reset expectations that this year will be unique, it will be different, and we need to be flexible in our expectations. If we move forward, this event will permit us:

- To meet and socialize as a club, face-to-face.
- Conformation competition will follow our standard format.

The details and specifics will be part of our general meeting discussions, but this short list will give you a heads up for the discussion.

The event is being held at the fairgrounds in Vallejo at the Woofstock Dog Show. Some of you will remember we held a general meeting at this event two years ago.

This past quarter has been quiet, as to be expected while states, counties, and communities relax their COVID-19 restrictions. I have sent the SFBSTC Board a copy of our governing documents to review, and then to learn if updates are needed.

As reported to the club at a previous Genera Meeting was my concern and opinion that our club needs to reduce our governing board based on our club size and active participants.

If the Board feels this worthy of a review, it will then move on to the membership for a vote.

On another topic I would like to continue to encourage members to share their news and photos in our Bay Scot Bulletin. In this issue some members responded to my request and sent into photos that serve as a visual update about their households of Scottish Terriers.

Hopefully, this is just the beginning. Please send your stories and photos: new puppy, a rescue, a memorial, or your favorite photo, past, present, and in the future,

For this issue of the Bay Scot Bulletin, I have not received any member questions or concerns to report out the membership. When comments are received, expect to see these concerns addressed in our bulletin, like our last issue.

Scent Work Achievements

Meet Cooper

Cooper, J-Mar's Rally Car, qualified in 3 searches on Saturday June 5th at the Mensona Kennel Club AKC Scentwork Trial in Petaluma. This was Cooper's first trial.

He qualified in Novice Interior, Novice Exterior, and Novice Containers. To earn the actual title he will need to qualify two more times in each area for a total of three qualifying searches. Novice AKC Scentwork classes have the dogs search for a hidden q-tip with birch scent. Novice level searches have one hide that is placed in a room inside a building for Interior, one hide placed in an outside area for Exterior, and one hide placed inside one of 10 cardboard boxes for Containers. The dog must "alert" on the location of the hide at which point the handler tells the judge where the dog has found it. The dogs work independently with almost no guidance from the handler. Cooper will look at me when he has found the hide. The dogs are rewarded with a food treat when they are successful.

While there are ribbons for first through fourth place based on how quickly the dog finds the hide, in performance events we covet the green qualifying ribbons.

As you can tell from the photo Cooper loves scentwork. He also loves the treats!

Upcoming California Dog Events

New Ideas for Meetings and Activities

Please send your suggestions to Board of possible activities. Danica Burge-Garsides has followed up with a local expert in our area from an interest from our club on barn hunt activities. Some of our other members like Freddie Miller, Pam Jewell and Lisa Frazer, please send us your latest new in scent work, obedience, and canine citizenship events.

Zoom Guest Speaker

The following comment was included in our last bulletin. I see from the Scottish Terrier Club of California is participating in a Zoom event, so these activities have progressed from just the idea stage. This idea is modeled after the TED talks, but scalable to our needs and resources. Our experts may be veteran breeders, veterinarians, judges, from national and regional clubs who could dial in and be part of Zoom event.

<sup>1</sup> Start date only, this event may span multiple days, check with the AKC Event database to verify which date, event, and/or judge you are interested in for the event.
